

behind the scenes

THE COVER SHOOT

Photographer Nelson Diaz reviews his images with creative director John Flynn while chef Josh Capon continues to prep food for the photo session.

This month, we had a little extra help shooting chef Josh Capon. We were lucky to enlist photographer NELSON DIAZ of NylaGray Photography. Diaz is based in Westwood and specializes in wedding, event and portrait photography. Mostly working in New York City, we were able to pry him away from his normal routine and take advantage of his keen skill set. You can see more of Diaz's work at nylagray.com and follow him on Instagram @nylagray.

During the session, Capon prepped and grilled one of the cuisines that made him famous — hamburgers! After the last photo was taken, Capon showed us the other thing he is famous for, his hospitality as he served and ate lunch with us.

— JOHN FLYNN

John Flynn, Nelson Diaz, lifestyle contributor Colleen Daly-Schuh and Josh Capon enjoy hamburgers and chips after the photo shoot.

C IS FOR COOKIE

Art director JORAM MUSHINSKE went to Chip City in Ridgewood to try some of their ooey-goey cookies. Everything was out-of-this-world, but his personal favorite was cookies n' cream.

SEE MORE PHOTOS OF THIS EVENT ON PAGE 55

A SEAT AT THE TABLE

Creative director JOHN FLYNN attended Table to Table's Chef's Gala last month. Here he is pictured with the organization's Eda Tekeoglu and Julie Kinner.

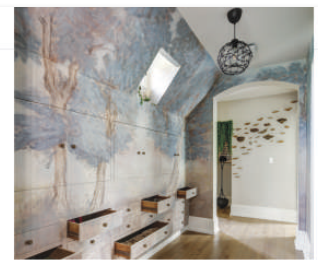

IT TAKES A VILLAGE

Lifestyle contributor COLLEEN DALY-SCHUH attended "Witches Night Out" at The Shops At Riverside hosted by RSVP By Anastasia to benefit Eva's Village.

correction

Lindsey Neff, owner/head designer of Larkspur Botanicals in Dumont, provided the decorative floral and botanical elements in the home design featured on p. H7 of our October issue. Photography was provided by Wing F. Wong. Memories TTL.

BEHIND THE SCENES: STAFF PHOTOS